

SOCIETY

EVERY day brings rumors of new parties made up of Richmond people who are planning to summer in Europe. Indeed the well established Northern custom of going across every summer is taking quite a place in the lives of Southerners now, and many Richmond people are establishing this perennial habit and run over some time during the summer season, if only for a few weeks.

An interesting group to leave Richmond on June 3 and sail from New York on June 4 aboard the Minnetonka, of the Atlantic Transport Line, will be Mrs. Thomas Jardine, Masters Street, and Warren Jardine and Mrs. Charles Taylor.

They will spend some time in London and then go to visit Mrs. William Jardine in Glasgow, where they will be joined by Thomas Jardine, who will accompany them home about the last of September.

Mrs. Jardine has been in Khartoum, Egypt, in government employ, since last November, and his many friends in Richmond will be glad to welcome him back.

Mrs. Edward Valentine and children and Miss Beasley Chamberlayne will spend the summer months abroad. They will be in London during June, will travel extensively in Scotland and throughout the British Isles, and later will go to Holland, returning in October.

Other Richmonders who are also planning a summer in Europe are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brown. They will leave Richmond the last of June, and will sail on the Celtic to visit Mrs.

Brown's father, Joseph Craik, of South Shore, Lancashire, England.

The Browns will remain until the first week in October.

Mrs. Junius A. Morris and Miss Elizabeth Kent King will go abroad the middle of June to be absent about three months.

Misses Hatlie and Lina Shields, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Vaughn leave Wednesday for New York, sailing on Thursday. They will tour Norway, visit Germany and Austria, later going to Paris and lastly to the British Isles before their return in October.

Ah Fong Young, of Canton, China, who is completing his collegiate course at Richmond College, will be the speaker at the Woman's Club on Monday afternoon at 6 o'clock, when he will tell the women many interesting things about his own country.

Mr. Young is considered by those who know him as a young man of great talent and an unusually interesting speaker.

On Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock the last tournament of the season will be played, with bridge as the game. The usual rules about partners and notifying the house committee will be observed.

On the same evening the Woman's Club is invited by the Audubon Society to attend a lecture in the Jefferson auditorium on "Birds," which will be given by Frank Chapman, curator of the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

Admission will be by card only, which club members can secure at the club.

To Lunch at Lakeside.

Always at this season there is a good deal of entertaining incident to
